Faculty - Recruiting and Professional Development

We are delighted to announce that our teaching positions for the 2012-13 are now filled.

Spanish - Stephanie Packer holds a BA in Organizational Studies from the University of Michigan. She trained as a Waldorf teacher in Spain, and has spent the past several years between Seville, Spain, and Princeton, NJ, teaching in Waldorf schools and in cultural programs offered by the Andalusian Government. Stephanie will join us this August directly from Seville, where she currently teaches English to children and adults.

Eurythmy - We have made an offer to a candidate for the position of Eurythmist, and anticipate receiving a response in the next two weeks. We certainly hope this very talented and thoughtful candidate will be eager to join our faculty next year, and bring many new talents to our lively team. Additionally, we are considering another very interesting candidate who has expressed interest in joining our school.

Educational Support - Our Educational Support consultant Terri Fristad, will not return to Three Cedars next year. Terri has chosen to focus her energy on Whidbey Island, where she lives. In the past few weeks, she very kindly helped us search for her replacement. We are delighted to welcome Mary Spurgin as our Educational Support teacher this fall. Mary is already very familiar with Three Cedars, where for the past few years she has tutored several of our students, both in school and in her private tutoring practice. Mary holds a Masters degree in Waldorf Education from Sunbridge College, NY. She has taught Grade One through Four at the Green Meadow Waldorf School, NY, as well as Japanese, Korean, and art. Mary intends to attend the Waldorf Remedial Education training course, beginning this fall. We look forward to offering her services to our students in need of an educational support plan.

Professional Development

This coming summer, our faculty will renew their skills and perspective by attending a wide array of professional development courses, both in Seattle and further afield. The summer will begin with our 'Review Days' on June 18, 19, and 20, when we will join the faculty of the Seattle Waldorf School, as well as Waldorf colleagues from Olympia, Bellingham, Bainbridge Island and Whidbey Island, for a three-day symposium on Waldorf pedagogy. Hosted in Seattle, this gathering will be led by Christof Wiechert, a beloved and renowned expert in Waldorf education. You can view Mr. Wiechert's short biography here: <http://www.soundcircle.org/content/christof-wiechert>.

Following this gathering, our faculty will engage in courses focusing on their specific interest, as follow:

Monica Lander, MaryAnne Hinton, Geri Snyder, and Geraldine Kline will attend the course 'Karma - Future out of the past' offered by Sound Circle Center in Seattle.

Also with Sound Circle, Jung Sook Kim-Tokura, Bernd Zabel and Stacy Evans-Agnew will attend the course 'Practical Advice to Teachers'. In addition to this course, Bernd and Stacy will attend the preparatory course for their class, in Sacramento and Seattle respectively.

Cris Smith, Annette Campana, and Kim Holscher will attend the course 'Teaching Sensible Science' offered by Michael D'Aleo at Sound Circle Center. Ms. Holscher will also attend the AWSNA summer conference in Sacramento, along with Laura Mason.

Maggie Reilly and Ron Sears will attend the course 'Therapeutic Movement in Early Childhood', again offered by Sound Circle Center, while Amy Hoff will attend a course in either Sacramento or Duncan, BC.

And lastly, Annette Campana, Kim Holscher, Britt Urquiza, and Michael Preston will take the Online Intensive Training designed specifically for each of their respective grade, with Eugene Schwarz.

All of us look forward to engaging in these wonderful professional development opportunities, and to sharing our renewed insights and enthusiasm at our Preview Days Retreat in mid-August.

Geraldine Kline, E.D.

May Faire Festival Appreciations

A Unique Celebration Of Community and Curriculum!

This year, we combined our annual May Day Festival and our Spring Faire Festival and called it our "MAY FAIRE FESTIVAL". With wonderful and warm weather we had a special time celebrating and watching our student's May Pole processional and dances. Thank you to each family who brought fresh flowers and greenery from their own family garden or local store. A special thank you to Trader Joe's in Bellevue for the incredible donation of flowers this year.

It was beautiful to see the families gather with their children to decorate their May Faire crowns. Thank you to those volunteers comprised of families and community members for helping to co-create this magical community building and outreach festival for our children and our community. With our community's help and endeavors, this was a lovely event and a way to spend the day together. Thank you for inviting your friends and family so that they could join in the celebrations and fun!

A special thank you to our Master of Ceremonies, Robin Evans-Agnew along with Evelyn Health who graciously helped our May Queen, Caleah Dean and her long-time friends Josh Craig and Journey Cirdain. ## Volunteer Appreciation

Three Cedars has had a wonderful tradition of hosting a yearly party in appreciation of its many volunteers, who in many ways seen and unseen make our school the lovely, vibrant community that it is. This event, whether on a cruise or in a parent's home, offered us all yet another chance to appreciate and celebrate the many talents that create our unique school community, and the astonishing generosity that animates its spirit.

As we reach the conclusion of a year of significant transition, and after considering the ways to create a meaningful event for our volunteers hosted by our faculty and staff, I think it is best to simply acknowledge that we have not been able to give this special event the quality of careful thought it truly deserves.

Throughout the school year, parents and friends of the school give our faculty, students, and the school community the gift of continuous support, time, and resources. Our school Volunteer Appreciation event presents the faculty and staff the chance to express gratitude in genuine and meaningful ways. This year, we have begun to see that this event should not be another event for parents to 'carry' on our behalf, but rather the one event that we, faculty and staff, offer our parents in gratitude. For these reasons, we have chosen to depart from what was offered in the past - cruise or party catered by our parents - and to reflect on the best way to convey our appreciation for our parents' contributions.

At this time of year, we are simply not ready to host a meaningful event for our parents, and this is why the event has been cancelled. As we prepare for next year, we will continue to imagine and create this event to authentically convey the depth of our gratitude to our volunteers, steeped in our collective and shared appreciation of what is given to us daily. The fruit of our faculty and staff shared imagination, our next Volunteer Appreciation event will be a reflection of who we are at this time, free from traditions, and filled with sincere appreciation for all we receive.

Waldorf Education and Standardized Testing

Waldorf schools worldwide have long ago opted to eliminate or greatly reduce the use of standardized tests in the assessment of students' achievements. Our school Grading Protocol outlines our approach to grading:

TCWS - Grading protocol

The nature and style of delivery of the Waldorf curriculum, combined with a high degree of individual attention, allow for a qualitative approach to assessment which is reported with increasing frequency as students move through the grades. Waldorf education is concerned with the whole, individual child as a developing human being and assesses students' developmental, social, artistic, and academic progress on a daily basis through a number of methods, including observation. Our school occasionally utilizes Waldorf specific assessment tools in the context of the 1st Grade Readiness Assessment, 2nd Grade Assessment, and 5th Grade Assessment.

Three Cedars Waldorf School does not rely on standardized testing as an evaluation tool, and does not assign letter grades.

In reporting to parents, we aim to give each teacher the latitude he or she needs to best report the students' progress in the context of their particular subject. Teachers utilize a grid, reflecting a particular skill set articulated on the report by that teacher for their particular discipline. It is important to emphasize that on such a grid, the student is measured in relation to his or her individual abilities, rather than against a class average or a pre-assigned standard of performance.

TCWS does not include letter grades in transcripts for students in grade 1 through 8. If a record of student grades is requested for any reason, an explanatory letter from the Executive Director accompanies the school records, articulating our approach to evaluating student work.

Our school, along with an increasing number of independent schools nationwide, chooses to focus on educating children rather than 'teaching to the test'. We hope that the article from the National Center for Fair and Open Testing will provide you with additional data on the trend away from standardized test requirements for college.

2012 Grade 8 Commencement Ceremony

In Memoriam

Many of us, parents and faculty members at Three Cedars, have heard of the passing of Patricia Costa Kim, beloved music teacher in our sister Seattle Waldorf School. Patricia, a very gifted musician and teacher, built a wonderful music program across the lake for students in grades 5 through 12. Patricia's contribution to the quality of music education in Seattle is here to last - Working as a singer, keyboard player, and music educator led to her obtaining a BFA from the City College of New York and a Masters degree from the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music at Brooklyn College. Her years of teaching, recording, composing, arranging, and performing inspired a move to the Emerald City. Since 1990, Patricia earned her Ph.D. at the University of Washington School of Music, taught in Seattle Public Schools, and spent seven years working as Director of Education and Community Programs for Seattle Symphony. There, she was responsible for the creation and implementation of Soundbridge Seattle Symphony Music Discovery Center. Patricia was most recently appointed as the Education Director for the Seattle Music Project.

Patricia will be dearly missed by her colleagues, fellow parents, and many friends at the Seattle Waldorf School and beyond. We send them all our warmest expression of support at this time of grief.

Grades News

Olympiad Odes

Fifth graders prepare themselves both inwardly and outwardly for the crowning event of their year, the Olympiad. Each child writes an ode to a Greek god or goddess, offering recognition and high praise in the hopes of being blessed with gifts, like strength, skill, endurance, grace, and confidence, that will ensure victory in the running, wrestling, discus, javelin, and long jump competitions.

Will the gods and goddesses accept their prayers and praise? Ask any Fifth Grader next week!

Volunteering at TCWS

Computer Savvy Volunteer Needed

The Front Office is seeking a computer savvy parent volunteer, with a good eye for photo and design who is comfortable navigating online photo storage programs. The task includes sifting through the school's collections of photos, which are stored onsite on our server, and uploading selections to Picasa. Interested parents may contact Seraphina at sorzel@threecedars.org for additional information.

Biographies

Stacy Evans-Agnew - Class of 2017

Mrs. Evans grew up in Columbia, Maryland where her family enjoyed being the “pioneers” of this new planned community. Ms. Evans has fond memories of neighborhood parades, walking to school through the forest, and making friends with classmates who had a different skin color than her own. Stacy graduated from the University of North Carolina where she earned a B.A. in theatre, speech, and psychology. After graduating, Stacy volunteered for Habitat for Humanity in Americus, Georgia where she worked on the paint crew and earned a food stipend of $25 a week. It was here that she lived the Habitat motto which was to be “simple and decent.” After marrying, Stacy returned to Maryland and earned a Master’s in Teaching degree from Towson State University. She did her training in inner city Baltimore and then took a job in Washington State in the Edmonds School District, where she taught second and third grade for five years. She left when she was pregnant with her first child and soon after found a Waldorf preschool for her daughter, which changed the course of her life. Ms. Evans graduated from Sound Circle Waldorf Teacher Training in Seattle, with a Waldorf teaching certificate and her experience includes a home-based Waldorf preschool for two years and two years with Bright Water School teaching Grades 4 and 5. Ms. Evans began her journey with the Grade 1 class at Three Cedars Waldorf School in 2009.

TCWS students began playing ultimate after school in January, 2010, at Wilburton Park. A small but dedicated group of 1st to 4th grade girls and boys showed up every week and worked on their teamwork (head), running (heart), and throwing/catching (hands). The pit forge is composed of a pair of leather sacks connected to tubes or pipes, and a shallow pit in the ground. This primitive bellows system is used to coax hardwood to burn hot enough to bring iron to a yellow heat. We will use this to forge small objects such as coat hooks, hardware items, and rustic knives.

The shaving horse and pole lathe are used in tandem, along with a hatchet, to transform a section of tree trunk into refined spindle forms. After splitting the log to the desired size, it is chopped to a rough cylinder with the hatchet. The shaving horse, a clamping system in the form of a bench, is used to hold the wood while it is further refined with a draw knife. The wood is then put on the pole lathe, a foot-powered predecessor to the modern electric lathe, and turned with a gouge into various spindle forms such as knife handles, rolling pins, stool legs, and the like.

Ironwood Workshops, located in north Seattle, are led by Mike Kline, a trained Waldorf teacher and practicing artist. For the past fourteen years, Mr. Kline has been teaching various 'practical arts' using wood, copper, iron, and willow to students in grades 5-12 in Waldorf schools in upstate New York, Vancouver, B.C., and currently in Seattle. Mike Kline's artwork can be viewed at www.mklineart.com.

Baldwin Acrosonic Piano

I am the original owner of a beautiful Baldwin Acrosonic piano built in 1948. It is a fine musical instrument and an elegant piece of furniture. In recent years, it has been played only occasionally and is in need of tuning to restore its wonderful sound.

When it was made, the Baldwin Acrosonic was at the top of Baldwin's line. This lovely piano and accompanying bench are in fine condition with the exception of a few minor scratches. It is classically styled with reeded legs and a graceful music stand. The keys are original, as is the gleaming finish.

I have the written appraisal which was $1,000 in 1980.

I am asking $800.
