The Three Cedars Waldorf School is searching for a trained and dynamic Games and Movement teacher for the fall of 2015. The ideal candidate is enthusiastic and eager to work collaboratively with a dedicated and cohesive team of teachers, and to developing a strong physical education program. This is a 60% part-time position, qualified for benefits.

- Qualifications: Spacial Dynamic training, B.A.
- Compensation: Salary based on credentials and years of experience including group medical and dental insurance, group long-term and short-term disability, retirement matching, tuition remission prorated to percentage of employment.
- Additional school programs include: half-day and full-day preschool and kindergarten, Spanish, Japanese, Handwork, Eurythmy, Music, Extended Care (After-school and breaks).

Ideal candidates are Waldorf trained teachers with a solid track record of successful teaching experience, a commitment to Waldorf Education, and a willingness to contribute to a solid school with strong leadership and faculty participation, on its way to accreditation.

Founded in 1995, Three Cedars Waldorf School's wooded 5 acres campus is located in Bellevue WA, the 'eastside' of Seattle, which offers a wide variety of outdoor and wilderness recreational opportunities, in addition to a full array of civic and cultural events. Our school currently offers a preschool-8 program. A high school program is available at the Seattle Waldorf School in Seattle. Three Cedars Waldorf School operates within an innovative and effective governance and organizational structure which honors teachers' commitment to Anthroposophy and focuses on the students' well-being, while being committed to sustainable growth and success as a dynamic learning institution.
